➤ Background

Student Grievance Redressal Committee (SGRC), a mandatory body established in all higher educational institutions in India as per the directives of the University Grants Commission (UGC) under the University Grants Commission (Redressal of Grievances of Students) Regulations, 2023. The SGRC's primary purpose is to provide a transparent, fair, and timely mechanism for students to raise and resolve academic, administrative, and infrastructural issues through a structured process, involving an Ombudsman for appeals and adherence to principles of natural justice.

➤ Purpose of the SGRC:

- To create a positive academic environment:
- The SGRC helps foster a healthy and positive atmosphere by addressing student concerns in a structured and time bound manner.
- To ensure student satisfaction:
- By resolving grievances, the committee helps maintain student satisfaction with the institutional facilities and academic processes

➤ Structure and Composition:

- The SGRC typically includes a senior professor as the chairperson, along with several other senior faculty members.
- There must be inclusivity, with a woman member/chairperson and at least one member from SC, ST, or OBC categories.
- A student representative, chosen for academic merit, sports achievements, or co-curricular excellence, also serves on the committee.

➤ Key Functions and Processes:

- Complaint Redressal Students can submit their grievances regarding academics, facilities, or administration Confidentiality. The committee handles all matters in a strictly confidential manner.
- Timely Resolution: The SGRC is expected to acknowledge and address grievances within specified timeframes, such as 15-30 working days.
- Principles of Natural Justice: The committee follows principles of natural justice, giving both the student and the accused an opportunity to present their case.
